60' Dumb Barge Conversion

£115,000

Believed to have been constructed in the 1970s, this barge was originally designed to help transport goods along the Thames. Over the past eight years, it has been thoughtfully renovated by its owner, transforming it into a charming living space. This vessel would make an ideal home or a unique vacation guest accommodation. A recent hull survey is available for potential buyers to view. This vessel is lying away, viewings are strictly by appointment only please.
